Agenda 1

Colleagues, with 1500 employees in our company, it's essential to understand that AI is transforming our workplace. In a recent survey, 72% of employees expressed curiosity and, in some cases, concerns about how AI will impact their roles. This data highlights the need for clear communication and support as we navigate these changes together.

Agenda 2

Employees have been curious about the timeline for AI implementation and which departments or roles will be most affected. I'll ensure that we get clarity on these aspects and communicate them effectively.

During our feedback sessions, employees have raised several important concerns about the AI transition. Firstly, many are concerned about job security. They want to understand how AI will impact their roles and whether there will be layoffs or significant changes in responsibilities.

Agenda 3

Other concerned raise was that the companies image can be affected negatively, as their are layoffs due to AI. And the employees are concerned how it will affect their reputation
How the layoffs can affect the company's image

Agenda 4

"I'd like to emphasize the importance of clear communication with the employees who will be laid off. chaos can be avoided 30-50% of times by clear and transparent communication, They should be informed about the reasons behind the layoffs, the support and resources available to them, and the timelines involved. We should also establish a channel for them to ask questions and seek assistance throughout this process. Transparency and empathy will be key."

Communication of Layoffs: "In terms of communication, employees value honesty and openness during layoffs. We need to ensure clear communication about the reasons for layoffs and how employees can navigate this challenging period. It's essential that their concerns are addressed promptly and with care."

Open Discussion:

"Before we move forward, I'd like to open the floor for any additional suggestions or concerns regarding how we can best support employees who are going to be laid off. Our goal is to make this transition as smooth and supportive as possible."

Agenda 5

To proactively address employee well-being from a career perspective, we can consider implementing a structured career development program. This program can provide employees with clear pathways for growth, identify opportunities for upskilling, and facilitate mentorship and guidance. Additionally, employees value knowing that their well-being concerns will be taken seriously, so we must ensure a responsive support system, which allows employees to seek assistance and guidance as they navigate their career paths during this transition"
